MEMORANDUM FOR: Executive Director-Comptroller

SUBJECT : Trial Self-Bussing in North Cafeteria

Reference is made to a recent proposal that we carry out a trial self-bussing operation in the north cafeteria to determine its possible usefulness and to test employee reaction. The proposed start on 14 July has now been indefinitely delayed as the General Services, Inc. equipment necessary for this operation has been diverted to a Navy Department cafeteria and we are uncertain when substitute equipment will be available. You will be notified of the new date for the trial operation.

STAT

MEMORANDUM FOR:

SUBJECT : Self-Bussing in North Cafeteria

1. As I understand it, there has been an agreement reached by, I presume, the Agency, GSI, GSA, et al to try self-bussing in the North Cafeteria to see, I understand, if somehow this will not improve cafeteria service, quality of food, better atmosphere etc. Among the factors involved are the difficulties in obtaining cafeteria workers. It is nothing more than the practice at the dining room whereby one eats off his tray and carries the tray to a central disposal point.

STAT

2. The cafeteria problem (service and quality of food) seems to be a fairly general one in government buildings according to the federal column in the Post. Many are experimenting to see what changes will result in improvement. Self-bussing is one approach.
